

St. Paul Preparatory School (SPP), conveniently located in historic downtown St. Paul, is excited to offer an extensive scholarship program for high school students in the Twin Cities metro area. Based on a generous donation from our Nacel International School System, in 2010–11 St. Paul Prep will offer scholarship money toward 30 local students' tuition. Scholarship amounts range from $2,500 to $8,500 per school year. In addition to these scholarships, SPP will also be offering scholarship opportunities for 5 American students to study abroad at our new international high school in Paris, France.

St. Paul Preparatory School is an international college preparatory school where students from 25 countries around the world engage in a rigorous academic curriculum. Qualifying scholarship students should be interested in a private, quality education where they can succeed in a challenging academic setting and interact with students from around the world. The mission of SPP is to prepare each of its students for the reality of a global world: post-high school, college, and beyond.

This is the opportunity of a lifetime for local students to cultivate their interests in international culture or business, foreign policy, economics, history, math, the sciences, the international art community, foreign language and linguistics, and more.
